Together for the wellbeing of children

About us

Center for missing and exploited children is the leading organization protecting children from sexual exploitation and abuse on the internet for more than 10 years.

We care about children living in unfavourable living conditions and try to improve their quality of life on a daily basis.

In cooperation with the community, experts and responsible authorities we are working on the prevention of missing children and assist families in crisis situations.

Our goals are

- ♥ to prevent any kind of child abuse or neglect
- ♥ to protect the safety of children on the Internet
- ♥ to prevent the occurrence of missing children and child trafficking
- ♥ to promote and protect children's rights and the best interests of the child
- ♥ to promote, develop and improve the quality of life for children, youth and families

100+ children included in everyday treatment

6 of our Centres for working with children are active in 5 Croatian counties

20+ employed experts working daily with children, youth and families

30000+ children participate in numerous activities of the Center every year

150+ volunteers are active in our programs every year

50+ national and international organisations support our work

200+ experts participated in our educations

Missing children - ☎ 116 000 The national hotline number for missing children

Did you know that the line 116000 is the support line for children, parents and guardians in institutions in the case of:

- a child is missing
- child runaways from home or institutions
- parental/international child abduction
- missing unaccompanied migrant children or child trafficking victims

The Center's trained professionals provide support and useful information on the 116 000 hotline, available 24/7 and free of charge so that the child is found and returned to safety as quickly as possible.

We organize a lot of educational activities to prevent the phenomena of missing children and we are also raising awareness among experts and citizens about this issue.

Safer Internet Centre

Through extensive experience in the protection of children and youth on the internet, we have noticed a need to form a national Safer Internet Centre.

The Centre is primarily offering the following services:

0800 606 606 - free and anonymous
Helpline for children and parents

Anonymous reporting of illegal content on the internet

Educational platform for experts

An information and support centre, providing information about better and safer use of the Internet through educational activities in day-care centres, elementary schools and high schools.

Treatment work with children

The Centre for missing and exploited children has established Prevention and treatment centres for working with children in 6 different cities across Croatia.

We offer a half-day care service which provides daily help and support for over 100 children, lacking support in their living environment.

The half-day care treatment includes:

- psychosocial support (individual and group counselling for children and their families)
- work habits and independence development and raising health care awareness
- social and communication skills workshops
- help and support in education
- cooperation with parents, educational experts and relevant institutions
- organization of non-curricular activities for quality free time spending (creative, sports, informatic workshops and other fun activities)

Other activities

- ♥ Children, Youth and Families counselling
- ♥ Foster care support
- ♥ Help and support for families which are going through divorce
- ♥ Addiction prevention
- ♥ Self-sustained development
- ♥ Social entrepreneurship
- ♥ Mentor program
- ♥ Development of volunteering
